Strategic Giving

TO THE HARD PLACES

now.

CAUTION: The information in this catalog was intentionally prepared to protect the security of Alliance workers and work in hard places throughout the world. As you share this information, please do not add any details regarding specific workers or locations.

You are needed.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance has always been a responsive, sacrificial, risk-taking family. When God opens doors, we walk through them, seizing gospel-advancing opportunities before those doors close. During this next, bold chapter of Alliance advance, we are taking intentional and strategic steps toward the pioneering work that has always defined us.

Within this gift catalog are 26 time-sensitive, strategic projects that advance these steps and our All of Jesus for All the World vision in hard places throughout our neighborhoods and the nations.

All the world means those who live in the hardest places where others are not going. This is where 80 percent of Alliance international workers go. We intentionally seek out least-reached peoples to bring all of Jesus to the lost, suffering, and marginalized in every community we serve. This is what sets The Alliance apart.

You are needed! The Alliance is perfectly positioned for the next decades of what God is calling us to do, but the work can't be done without you. All of Jesus for All the World takes all of us—now.

Consider how God is stirring your heart and passion as He leads you to join Him on mission through the workers and work He has directed to the ends of the earth.

You will notice a “Challenge Goal” for each project, which is the targeted amount needed to move each one forward this fiscal year. Three gift examples enable everyone in the Alliance family to participate in funding these projects. No gift is too big or too small.

Thank you in advance for your radical generosity—for stepping out in faith to make an eternal Kingdom impact in the hard places throughout all the world—now.

Prepare New Workers for the Mission Field

Imagine how many more unreached people will hear and respond to the gospel when one new Alliance worker per week is sent to a hard place.

That's the gospel impact you will have when you give to identify, qualify, and prepare new workers. You will catalyze a renewed worker-sending movement!

Your gift will be used to fuel the Alliance International Placement Office, which teaches and prepares new international workers to have a meaningful, impactful presence among marginalized, displaced, and least-reached peoples. Because of you, new workers will undergo training on spiritual growth, cross-cultural ministry, security, child safety, and language learning. They will also receive member care resources, educational consulting, transition preparation, coaching on church engagement, and much more.

Not all are called to go, but all are called to be present in fulfilling God's Great Commission. Now is the time to send over 50 new workers into the harvest field this year.

Break New Ground for Gospel Impact

Imagine a young girl taking Communion for the very first time. She does so secretly because believers in this Middle Eastern country risk being arrested, ostracized, or even murdered for their faith. The constant threat of persecution deters many Christians from entering this hard place.

Last year, you launched a team of Alliance international workers into one of this country's largest cities, home to some of the region's least-reached peoples. This year, will you provide a community center for these workers to host English classes, conversational English practice sessions ("coffee nights"), and other gospel-advancing outreach events among their new neighbors?

The team's goal is to establish locally led churches so people no longer need to practice their faith in isolation. By giving to this project now, you will not only build a community center—you will also open a new door for Alliance Missions advance.

He is standing on dry, reddish-brown earth. Behind him is a long, single-story building with a corrugated metal roof. The building's walls are made of reddish-brown bricks and have vertical wooden slats or panels in some sections. Some laundry is hanging on one of the slatted sections. Revitalize a Community in Turmoil

Occultic influences, constant threats of violence, and widespread poverty are just a few of the obstacles to church stability and growth in Burkina Faso. Christianity has deep roots in this hard place, but for decades leaders at the Burkina Alliance National Office have worked in outdated facilities with crumbling walkways, peeling paint, and cramped rooms.

You are needed now to revitalize a community in turmoil by equipping national church leaders with upgraded facilities to host conferences, accommodate visitors, and oversee vital ministries in places like schools, radio stations, and more than 1,000 Alliance churches throughout the country.

Through your gifts to this project, you will propel the construction of a new National Office complex in Burkina Faso that will include a 200-seat conference room, offices, guest rooms, commercial spaces, and a restaurant. The income generated through the new facility will fund gospel-advancing work among under-resourced, hurting, and displaced people.

Accelerate Church Planting Among the Unreached

Sumatra is one of the most unreached islands on earth. Over 50 million people make up the 23 least-reached people groups.

By giving to this project, you will fuel a church-planting movement that meets culturally relevant needs through outreach initiatives involving beekeeping, brickmaking, gardening, and even the sale of office supplies.

Before this project was launched seven years ago, the Indonesian Alliance's presence in Sumatra was limited to 16 small churches. Since then, donors like you have laid the foundation for new church plants in communities long resistant—and even hostile—toward Christianity. The work is far from finished.

The purpose of this project is twofold: (1) plant 16 reproducing churches and five discipling movements in this hard place; and (2) place Alliance workers among the majority religion's unreached people groups. You will supply local church planters with living space, vehicles, and other resources to carry out their vital work among overlooked and underserved Sumatrans.

Give now to plant locally led churches on an island long starved of gospel presence.

Establish a Permanent House of Worship

Resistance to church planting is fierce in the Circle of Silence—a region of Mexico where only 2 percent of people identify as evangelical. Drug cartels, hostile indigenous populations, and government restrictions threaten to slow the momentum of Project South Pointe, an Alliance initiative launched in 2015 with the goal of planting 10 new churches in the Circle of Silence by the year 2025.

You are needed to furnish one congregation in this hard place with steel, cement, and other supplies to build a two-story church that will include classrooms, offices, and a sanctuary for 500 congregants. It will also serve as the operational base for future church-planting efforts in this region of 26 million people.

Each Sunday, the congregation gathers in a large tent beside the construction site, eagerly awaiting a permanent home to worship, pray, and study God's Word. Will you provide a door, a window, or even an entire wall of this new church?

Train Refugees as Church Planters

For members of this refugee community in North Africa, becoming a Christian carries great risk of being disowned by family or refused an inheritance. New believers meet secretly to worship and study the Bible. Attending seminary is so risky that most students enroll under assumed identities.

Through your gift to this project, you pave the road for church planting among displaced, isolated, and vulnerable believers who have fled genocide in their home country. Over the last five years, Christ followers from this community have been growing in their faith through discipleship and underground worship sessions. They are also learning to read the Bible in their native language, which, until recently, was unwritten.

The next phase of this work provides access to seminary classes, adult education programs, and hands-on training in starting new churches, media outreach, and children's and music ministry.

Prepare members of this refugee community now to lead vital ministries and spearhead the formation of a national church network in this hard place.

NATIONAL CHURCH LEADERSHIP

National churches throughout the world are in desperate need of pastors and leaders formally trained to teach the Word of God in their native context—to lead indigenous peoples to Jesus and train more pastors to plant churches and spread gospel presence where it does not exist.

As one Alliance international worker says, “We believe the national church is God’s tool for bringing hope to our country.”

You can extend this hope by providing scholarships for pastors to receive a theological education—through accredited higher education institutions in their countries—that equips them to effectively lead their local churches and prepare other pastors for the work of Christ. Your gift now will raise up theologically trained pastors and teachers and will lead to hundreds of newly planted churches in hard places throughout the world.

Launch Emerging Leaders in Hard Places

Because of geographical, linguistic, and religious barriers, many Indonesians are deeply divided from their countrymen. These divisions manifest themselves in many ways: land disputes, workplace discrimination, and sometimes violence.

In a divided country with over 200 unreached people groups, The Alliance's work to advance the gospel is fueled by donors who provide emerging church leaders with books, facilities, and other training resources at 12 small theological schools. One of these institutions—Simpson Bible School—is introducing an academic program to launch cross-cultural ministry among Indonesians struggling for hope, purpose, and inner peace they can never find outside God's Word. However, this pioneering work is not possible without upgraded teaching materials, facilities, and learning experiences.

Imagine how encouraged you will feel knowing that because you placed a textbook in his hands, a seminary student is studying to steer an unreached village toward Jesus. Give to this project to launch emerging leaders into the hard places within their homeland.

All of Jesus for All the World takes everyone in the Alliance family—including the global network of national churches and organizations known as the Alliance World Fellowship (AWF).

With established networks in some of the world's hardest places, AWF is present in 50 countries with 23,000 churches, over 3,000 ordained pastors, 32,000 national workers, and 1,700 missionaries—as well as partnerships within 30 additional countries. Given such expansive work, AWF leaders are often called to missions meetings and service opportunities all over the world. Their roles carry significant travel and ministry expense.

Your gift to this project will ensure that AWF leaders and churches can continue their vital work in church planting, vision casting, and uniting and inspiring The Alliance's global missions work.

Healthy and growing national churches take the gospel into places others cannot go. AWF leaders and churches need you so they can go where they are needed and initiate ministries and projects among the world's least-reached peoples.

Rebuild Shattered Lives

More than a year since Ukraine was invaded by Russia, the country remains a hard place. Cities, towns, and villages lie in ruins. Roads and fields are littered with live mines. Millions are still displaced. Nearly everyone is scarred by the horrors and tragedies they have endured.

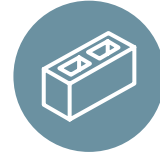

Your gift to this urgent project will meet the holistic needs of Ukrainians still displaced and devastated by war. These initiatives include rebuilding homes and churches, training new pastors, hosting children's camps, and investing in local businesses.

Since the invasion of Ukraine, an outpouring of generosity from people like you has fueled relief work and allowed five new Alliance-affiliated churches to spring up amid the rubble and tumult in Ukraine. The work isn't over. Nearly half of Ukrainian Alliance pastors live and minister within 20 miles of the front lines. These and other local leaders must be better trained and equipped to care for their neighbors and rebuild their communities.

While Christians are tolerated in this remote area of West Africa, they are vastly outnumbered and often received with suspicion, indifference, or hostility. For this reason, many believers keep a low profile, holding worship gatherings in crowded rooms with unadorned walls and hard floors padded with hand-woven mats.

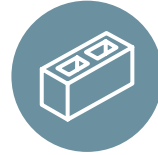

You have an opportunity to establish a ministry center among rural Senegalese families—many of them nomadic cattle herders with little or no gospel access. At the ministry center, local believers and other emerging church leaders will lead training events, gather for prayer and worship, and offer refuge to believers fleeing persecution.

For over 15 years, generous Alliance donors have provided these nomadic families with access to exceptional medical care. This vital work—started by a local believer—is the only gospel lifeline for some of the least-reached peoples in this dry savanna.

Alliance workers estimate that through the ministry center you will allow 100 people each year to study God's Word and experience His love—some for the very first time.

With one of the world's highest unemployment rates, this Balkan country is a hard place for most young people to build a career. Yet, their opportunities to meet someone who follows Jesus are even more limited than their job prospects. Evangelicals make up less than 1 percent of the population, and members of the majority religion are often wary of entering a church or participating in church-sponsored activities.

By renovating a new community center in the capital of this Balkan country, you will establish a welcoming place for people of all ages and backgrounds to learn job skills, gather with friends over coffee, and experience God's generosity, compassion, and hospitality.

This project builds on work at an older community center in the same city. The popularity of their programs and outreach events at this facility have compelled Alliance international workers to acquire a larger building to broaden the gospel impact of their work.

Through your giving, you will create new opportunities for the Holy Spirit to intersect with and renovate lives!

Fulfill a 30-Year Vision for Gospel Impact

The Alliance's vision for this hard region—where unreached peoples make up over 90 percent of the population—began more than 30 years ago. Since an Alliance community center was forced to close, unreached and neglected families have been left with little access to services and even less to the gospel.

Your gift to this project will change that. You will come alongside the national Alliance church in this region to launch an outreach to the majority religion population.

Through community development programs, this outreach will open doors for Kingdom impact that would not otherwise be available. Outreach activities include (but are not limited to) medical care, English classes, sports, entrepreneurship, agriculture, and youth programs.

Deaf people in this central Asian country often find themselves on the margins of society. With limited opportunities to pursue education and job training, many struggle to find stable employment. Prevailing misconceptions about deafness even lead some to believe they are cursed or unloved by God.

By giving to this project, you will enable Deaf students to enroll in apprenticeships led by master craftsmen from their communities. Through these apprenticeships, the students develop skills to pursue jobs in fields like carpentry, auto mechanics, plumbing, and cosmetology.

Some students you assist are graduates of a sign language program led by Alliance workers who have been building connections with local families for years—all for the purpose of demonstrating God's love and teaching unreached peoples about His Word. The apprenticeships are a practical way to show these and other sign language students and their families that God cares for them and provides for their every need.

In this hard place, the loss of a dairy cow can be devastating for the family that depends on its milk for their livelihood. Because many farmers lack access to veterinary care, livestock commonly become ill or die of preventable causes, resulting in estimated losses of $30 billion per year and lost food supplies for isolated communities.

Your donation to this vital project will provide livelihood sustainability to farmers through professional, affordable, and accessible veterinary services available at animal health centers and through app-based technology. Some life-sustaining services are even provided at the farmer's doorstep so families in rural areas do not have to travel long distances to treat the animals they depend on.

Most importantly, you can create opportunities for gospel impact. Because of your giving, animal care providers serve as the hands and feet of Jesus, gaining rare access into unreached villages where they may otherwise be unable to establish a meaningful, impactful presence.

Badshaguna—a developing community in Bangladesh—bustles with tourists, street vendors, and bicycle rickshaw drivers. Poverty and limited educational opportunities drive many women into prostitution. Few of Bangladesh's urban poor have heard the gospel or encountered the presence of Jesus.

By building a five-story community center in Badshaguna, you will pave the way for exploited and marginalized women—many of them former prostitutes and refugees—to pursue work as clothing producers and find a sense of belonging among people who share the hope for a newfound identity in Jesus. The community center will also house an educational boarding program for youth from remote hill tribes.

Your gift will expand on a vocational training program that provides up to 120 women per year with a path out of poverty and human trafficking. The foundation of the new community center has already been laid. Will you drive this project into the next phase of construction by giving cement, bricks, steel, and other vital supplies?

CREATE FOOD AND WATER SECURITY

IN AFRICA

Many Senegalese farmers rely on donkey-pulled carts and hand tools to plant, tend, and harvest their crops. Their land is overworked, depleted of nutrients, and barely produces enough food for these farmers to feed their families. Worst of all, though, most of them do not know they can turn to Jesus for guidance, compassion, and provision.

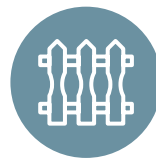

Your gift to this project will train and equip families to adopt farming techniques that make their exhausting labor more fruitful. A practical way of demonstrating God's generosity and selfless love, agricultural training becomes an access point for gospel-centered conversations and discipleship in one of the world's remaining hard places.

Unlike simply providing seeds or increasing field surface area, this project teaches struggling and under-resourced farmers how to improve the quality and productivity of their soil. In this way, they become better stewards of God's creation.

Give now to provide families with tools, knowledge, and guidance to prosper in their farm work and become lifelong followers of Jesus.

Many families in this West African country toil throughout the growing season with simple farming tools in searing heat and suffocating humidity. Their grueling work brings them barely enough rice, corn, and sweet potatoes to silence their groaning stomachs. Because most lack gospel access, they also hunger daily for the spiritual nourishment only Jesus can provide.

You can demonstrate God's wisdom and redeeming love to families in this West African country by introducing them to farming practices and technologies that restore nutrients to the soil and improve crop yields.

This project began in 2015 as relief work to communities afflicted by the Ebola outbreak and has blossomed into much more. Through your gift toward agriculture training and consultation, you will equip West African farmers to overcome food insecurity without government assistance. You will also create opportunities for Alliance international workers to proclaim and demonstrate God's love among people long denied gospel access.

A mother who immigrates to New York from West Africa faces an uphill battle. She has gone from one hard place to another. To find work, communicate with her children's teachers, and pass citizenship tests, she must first learn English. Without language training, she may remain isolated, wrestling with heavy financial burdens, confusion, and trauma.

You have an opportunity now to provide ESL classes, citizenship test prep services, job training, and emotional care for West African women in New York—most of whom have recently arrived in the United States and never read the gospel or received an invitation to follow Jesus. Named after Tabitha, a disciple in the Early Church who was “always doing good and helping the poor” (Acts 9:36), this project creates natural launching points into gospel-centered conversations.

People living in remote villages of Indonesia are often entangled in occultic practices and cut off from gospel access. With many local families hurting from generations of poverty and feuding over land rights, this region can be a hard place for anyone—but especially for children.

Through this project, you will transform the dense forests and jagged cliffs of Papua, Indonesia, into a welcoming outdoor refuge for local children and their families to camp, hike, swim, and—most importantly—encounter the hope and love of Jesus.

You will also create a refreshing space where pastors, Alliance international workers, and other Spirit-empowered leaders will attend seminars and outreach events.

Decades after Bosnia and Herzegovina's civil war, ethnic divisions still run deep. Evangelicals are one of the few groups willing to cross ethnic lines to bond with their neighbors. Even so, evangelicals are often viewed with distrust by the majority population.

Each year, tens of thousands of women and girls are recruited from one North African country to pick strawberries in the fields of Spain. These strawberry field workers are often tricked into entering the sex industry with the promise of finding “better work” in Spain’s crowded cities. With little money, education, and social influence, many endure these traumatic experiences in silence.

Through this project, you will launch a team of Alliance international workers on a tour of town halls, art exhibitions, universities, and other key sites in Spain to present original artwork, stories, and other resources that amplify the voices of those who have been unwittingly lured into and imprisoned by human trafficking. At the center of this awareness campaign will be a new book of stories and artwork, The Strawberry Girls.

DISCIPLE UNREACHED

CHILDREN AND YOUTH

Many children in El Salvador grow up in neighborhoods filled with gang violence without the protection from their parents who are often forced to venture abroad to find work.

Alliance work is underway to lift these vulnerable and underserved children from the cycle of poverty and violence threatening to engulf them. Through the generosity of people like you, students in their early teens are finding a safe place to study, play sports, and develop a lifelong relationship with Jesus through prayer, devotionals, and worship services.

The ministry center where this vital work takes place doubles as a housing unit for short-term workers. Due to space limitations, older teens are excluded from programs. By providing a new space to house short-term workers, you will expand outreach among at-risk youth and allow more students to find refuge and guidance among God's servants.

Give to this project to bring greater gospel impact to El Salvador.

THE TAB

As the Alliance family, we are called to fully engage with Jesus toward our future of seeing our All of Jesus for All the World vision fulfilled in our neighborhoods and the nations.

Over the next two years, The Alliance will complete One Alliance Place—phase one of Alliance Place—a multi-use facility that will enable The Alliance to have a meaningful, impactful gospel presence in the community, facilitate collaboration among Alliance pastors and churches for greater mission advance, and unleash new revenue that sends more Alliance workers to the hardest places.

Just as every journey begins with one step, every building begins with one square foot. Every $400 you give will build one square foot of One Alliance Place and launch new gospel-advancing opportunities throughout the United States and the world.

The time to change how we work and serve is now. Take your step into the future and build one square foot—or more—and stand with your Alliance family in this transformational moment.

Imagine holding an old family photograph in your hand—delicate, faded, the people barely recognizable. Now imagine hundreds of thousands of photos, films, books, and artifacts representing over 140 years of Alliance history—teachings from our founders, stories from thousands of missionaries, polity and bylaw decisions—all documenting our past and guiding our future. What would happen if all this history faded away?

We cannot let this happen.

When you give to preserve the Alliance Archives, you are creating an appropriate space for historical content to be kept safe and shared with churches, districts, fields, college students, authors, educators, and researchers all around the world.

Gifts to this project will build a 2,500-square foot, state-of-the-art Archives development within One Alliance Place, including a research room, small library, climate-controlled storage space, and mobile shelving to store the collections. It will also include office space and interactive displays throughout the building.

Many hands have been sorting and organizing resources over the decades. Give now before Alliance history is lost forever.

GLOBAL IMPACT

OPPORTUNITIES

We are living in a unique cultural moment, a tipping point where change is happening—fast. With all the turmoil in the world today, nothing is more vital than gospel presence! The Alliance has always been a movement defined by bold, faith-filled generosity—demonstrated by your commitment to send and sustain gospel presence among lost, suffering, and overlooked people throughout the world.

Join us in prayerfully entering a season of renewed generosity and sacrifice to position The Alliance for decades of future flourishing. Then give the gift of gospel presence where it's needed most so Alliance workers can continue to be present in some of the world's hardest places—both in the United States and every corner of the globe. By giving generously to The Alliance, you bring the good news of salvation and redemption in Jesus to those who have yet to experience His love and care and advance our All of Jesus for All the World vision.

The time to exercise radical generosity is now.
